YZU 2027/2028 Application Brochure for International Students Admission Application

1. Qualifications for Application

Eligibility for admission is governed by the Regulations Governing International Students Studying in Taiwan (hereinafter "the Regulations"):

A. A person of foreign nationality who has never held R.O.C. nationality (*1) may apply for admission if he/she meets both of the following requirements:
   (1) Has never studied in Taiwan as an overseas Chinese student.
   (2) Has not been placed by the University Entrance Committee for Overseas Chinese Students under the Regulations Regarding Study and Counseling Assistance for Overseas Chinese Students in Taiwan in the academic year of application.

B. A person of foreign nationality who meets the following requirements and has most recently resided overseas (*2) continuously for at least six years (*3) may also apply for admission. For those intending to study medicine, dentistry or Chinese medicine at the university level, the required period of continuous residence is at least eight years:
   (1) A person who also holds R.O.C. nationality at the time of application must never have had household registration in Taiwan.
   (2) A person who previously held R.O.C. nationality but no longer holds it at the time of application must have completed eight full years from the date the Ministry of the Interior approved the loss of R.O.C. nationality to the time of application.
   (3) Persons under (1) and (2) above must also meet requirements (1) and (2) of item A.

C. A person of foreign nationality who also held R.O.C. nationality and applied to renounce it before February 1, 2011, when the amended Regulations took effect, may apply for admission under the previous rules and is not subject to item B.

D. A foreign national recommended to study in Taiwan by a foreign government, institution or school under an educational cooperation agreement, who has never had household registration in Taiwan, may be exempted from items A and B with the approval of the competent authority.

E. A person of foreign nationality who also holds permanent residency in Hong Kong or Macau, has never had household registration in Taiwan, and has resided continuously (*2) in Hong Kong, Macau or overseas for at least six years (*3) at the time of application may apply for admission. For those intending to study medicine, dentistry or Chinese medicine at the university level, the required period of continuous residence is at least eight years.

F. A person who was formerly a resident of the Mainland Area, holds foreign nationality, has never had household registration in Taiwan, and has resided continuously overseas (*2) for at least six years (*3) at the time of application may apply for admission. For those intending to study medicine, dentistry or Chinese medicine at the university level, the required period of continuous residence is at least eight years.

G. An international student may apply to study in Taiwan under the above provisions only once; those who continue studying in Taiwan must be admitted in the same way as local students. This limit does not apply in any of the following cases:

(1) Applying for a master's or higher program after completing the program at the school first admitted to.

(2) An international student admitted to a bachelor's or lower-level program who withdrew or lost student status for any reason after staying in Taiwan for less than one year may reapply to study in Taiwan, but only once.

(3) An international student who meets item A applying for a bachelor's program other than medicine, dentistry or Chinese medicine, but only once.

H. An international student who has been expelled or has lost student status because of failing conduct, failing to meet academic requirements, or serious violations of laws or school rules may not reapply under item G.

I. Academic qualifications: An international student with a foreign high school diploma or equivalent qualifications recognized under the R.O.C. academic system may apply to a bachelor's program; one with a bachelor's degree or equivalent qualifications may apply to a master's program; and one with a master's degree or equivalent qualifications may apply to a PhD program. Academic credentials shall be handled as follows:

(1) Credentials from the Mainland Area: in accordance with the Regulations Regarding the Assessment and Recognition of Academic Credentials for Mainland Area.

(2) Credentials from Hong Kong or Macau: in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Examination and Recognition of Academic Credentials from Hong Kong and Macau.

(3) Credentials from other areas: 1. Credentials from overseas Taiwanese schools and Taiwanese businessmen's schools in the Mainland Area are equivalent to those of R.O.C. schools at the same level. 2. Other foreign credentials shall be handled in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Recognition of Foreign Academic Credentials by Universities; credentials from foreign schools or branch campuses located in the Mainland Area must be notarized by a notary office in the Mainland Area and verified by an institution established or designated by the Executive Yuan or a private organization commissioned by it.

(4) Applicants with equivalent qualifications must meet the MOE Standards for Recognizing Equivalent Qualifications for University Admission.

(5) Applicants who have completed a bachelor's or higher degree in Taiwan and are applying to a master's or higher program may submit the diploma and transcripts from their Taiwanese institution instead of overseas academic credentials.

J. If any admission document submitted by an international student is found to be forged, falsely used or altered, the admission offer will be revoked; if the student has already enrolled, his/her student status will be revoked and no academic certificates will be issued; if this is discovered after graduation, the graduation status and degree certificate will be revoked.

*1: A person in any of the circumstances under Article 2 of the Nationality Act holds R.O.C. nationality for the purposes of the Regulations. Under Article 2 of the Nationality Act, a person holds R.O.C. nationality if:

(1) His/her father or mother was an R.O.C. national at the time of his/her birth.

(2) He/she was born after the death of his/her father or mother, who was an R.O.C. national at the time of death.

(3) He/she was born in R.O.C. territory and both parents are unknown or stateless.

(4) He/she has been naturalized.

Subparagraphs (1) and (2) also apply to persons who were under 20 years of age when the amended Nationality Act took effect on February 9, 2000.

*2: “Overseas” refers to countries or regions other than the Mainland Area, Hong Kong and Macau. “Continuous residence” means the international student stayed in Taiwan for no more than 120 days in each calendar year. If the first or last year of the period counted is not a full calendar year, the student must have stayed in Taiwan for no more than 120 days within the counted portion of that year. Stays in Taiwan for any of the following reasons, supported by relevant documents, do not break continuous residence but are not counted as overseas residence:

(1) Attending an overseas youth vocational training class held by the overseas Chinese affairs authority, or a technical training program recognized by the Ministry of Education.

(2) Studying at a Chinese language center of a university approved by the Ministry of Education to admit international students, for a total of less than two years.

(3) Exchange study totaling less than two years.

(4) An internship in Taiwan approved by the central competent authority, totaling less than two years.

For items E and F, “continuous residence” means a total stay in Taiwan of no more than 120 days in each calendar year, and exceptions (1) to (4) above also apply.

*3: The six-year and eight-year periods are calculated with the start date of the intended semester (February 1 or August 1) as the end date.

4. Program Duration

The duration of study is 4 to 6 years for bachelor's degree programs, 1 to 4 years for master's degree programs, and 2 to 7 years for doctoral degree programs.

5. How to Apply

A. All applications must be submitted through the online application system; paper documents and late applications will not be accepted.
B. Please read "Required Information and Documents" below for the documents to submit.
C. The application fee is NT$1,000, payable through the online application system and is non-refundable once paid. Each applicant may choose up to 3 programs, all of which must be at the same degree level; applying across degree levels is not permitted.
D. Applicants must provide the information and submit the documents required in the online application system and application brochure.
E. Applicants will be notified via email if they submit incomplete/wrong information or documents. Late submission after the deadline will not be considered.

6. Required Information and Documents

Applicants must upload the following documents to the online application system:

A. Certificate of Education Such as a Diploma/Certificate of Enrollment:
   i. Graduates of the current year must submit a copy of the student identity card or certificate of enrollment valid in the graduation semester, and an official diploma or a provisional graduation certificate must be provided before admission to the university, with the official graduation certificate submitted before the second semester. The documents must be translated into Chinese (except when the diploma is written in English) for the university's review. Applicants who do not provide the aforementioned documents will be disqualified for admission; if they are already admitted to the university, their admission will be revoked.

ii. Applicants who have already graduated must submit a copy of the diploma: a high school diploma for bachelor's programs, a bachelor's diploma for master's programs, and a master's diploma for PhD programs.

B. Academic Transcript:

i. Graduates of the current year must submit transcripts for Grade 10 and Grade 11 and a certificate of class ranking. Applicants to bachelor's programs who are not current-year graduates must submit complete high school transcripts.

ii. Applicants to the master's programs must submit a copy of the transcript of their undergraduate studies.

iii. Applicants to the PhD programs must submit a copy of the transcript of their master's studies.

C. Certificate of language proficiency: Applicants to programs taught in Chinese must provide proof of Chinese proficiency equivalent to TOCFL Level 2 or above. Applicants to programs taught in English must provide proof of English proficiency equivalent to CEFR B1 or above. Applicants who are nationals of an English-speaking country (please upload your passport), who obtained their previous degree in an English-speaking country (please upload the degree certificate), or whose previous degree was taught entirely in English (please upload proof) are exempt from the English proficiency requirement.

D. Autobiography: Applicants who submit different versions of personal statements to apply to different programs shall specify the name of each program and fill in the corresponding section in the system.

E. Photo: Each applicant must submit a 2x2-inch headshot taken within the last 6 months and show a full front view of the face without wearing a hat.

F. Statement of purpose (required for graduate programs): including the study plan.

G. Recommendation letters (required for graduate programs): please use the application system to invite your recommenders by email.

H. Affidavit for International Student Admission Application of YZU (provided in the system): applicants must read, complete, sign and upload it to the application system.

I. Financial Statement: An official bank statement (in Chinese or English) that indicates an account balance of more than NTD$120,000 (USD$4,000). The statement must be issued by a financial institution and cannot be older than 3 months at the time of the application or a certificate of receiving scholarship from Taiwan Government. The financial statement must not be issued by agents, companies, or personally issued certificates. If the certificate is not in the name of the applicant himself/herself, a signed sponsorship letter from the relatives (in Chinese or English) is required.

J. Passport cover and the bio page.

K. Additional application materials required by the individual department

L. Other supporting documents that may benefit the review, such as national examination results, competition awards, club participation or student leadership experience.

* Note 1. If the aforementioned documents, such as diploma, certificate of enrollment, and academic transcript, are languages other than Chinese or English, the applicants must submit a Chinese or English version the documents. The transcript must be an official document from the school and stamped by the school's Academic Affairs Office.
* Note 2. Applicants must submit an electronic file of the diploma, certificate of enrollment, and transcript. Once admitted to and registered at the university in Taiwan, the applicants must submit the original copy of these documents (and have them translated into Chinese if they are in languages other than Chinese or English), which must be verified by the overseas mission of Taiwan or a recommendation unit designated by the Overseas Community Affairs Council, for the university's review. Applicants who do not provide the aforementioned documents will be disqualified for admission; if they are already admitted to the university, their admission will be revoked.
* Note 3. Late applications after the deadline or applications that provide incomplete information will not be considered. Applicants cannot apply to submit late documents unless they are informed by YZU to do so.

7. Admission Principles

Applications are received by the Global Affairs Office and reviewed by each department. When necessary, a department may require an online video interview. Qualified applicants are submitted to the Admissions Committee for approval.

8. Appeal Procedure

A. Applicants who have questions regarding admission matters must file a written appeal with the YZU Admissions Committee within 15 days from the day after receiving the notification, stating the facts and reasons and attaching relevant documents and evidence. Late appeals will not be accepted. The Admissions Committee will reply formally within one month of receiving the appeal; when necessary, it will form a task force to investigate fairly, and it will inform the appellant of the available administrative remedies.
B. Admission disputes are handled in accordance with the YZU regulations governing applicant appeals.

9. Matters for Attention

A. The personal data submitted for application will only be used for the purpose of admission and related statistical analysis.
B. The submitted application form and documents will not be returned to the applicants whether they are admitted or not. The applicants should keep extra copies of the documents if they need these documents for other purposes.
C. If YZU discovers that an admitted student provides an invalid identity certificate or any documents that are forged, stolen, or altered, the student will be expelled from YZU and will not receive any academic certificate. If such a circumstance is discovered in a student already graduating from YZU, the student's diploma and academic degree will be revoked, and the student will be legally responsible for his or her behavior.
D. The admission letter issued by YZU does not guarantee a visa to Taiwan. Admitted students must complete all entry and visa procedures themselves in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations.

10. Registration Regulations

A. Admitted new students must come to the university to complete registration and enrollment on the scheduled date. Those who fail to do so without notifying the university and obtaining approval will be disqualified from admission.

B. The relevant regulations for credit transfer are handled in accordance with Yuan Ze University's credit transfer regulations and the credit transfer regulations of each department.

C. To understand the health status of students, according to Article 8 of the School Health Act and Article 7 of the Yuan Ze University Academic Principles, new students should participate in the health examination conducted by the school when they enter the school.

D. After registration, students should take relevant courses and other regulations in accordance with the requirements of each department before they are eligible for graduation.

E. Students applying for withdrawal or suspension of the university after the payment of registration fees may apply for a refund in accordance with Article 15 of "Procedures for College and University Tuition and Miscellaneous Fees Collection" established by the Ministry of Education.

F. Matters not covered in this brochure shall be handled in accordance with the relevant regulations of the school or the resolution of the Admissions Committee.

12. YZU Scholarship

A. Scholarship types and amounts are as follows

i. Incoming students: those who are admitted and complete registration in the first semester may be granted tuition and miscellaneous fee reimbursement or a living stipend.

ii. Undergraduate students who have completed one semester of study and have taken the minimum number of credits per semester required by the University, with a conduct score of 80 or higher and an average academic grade of 75 or higher in the previous semester, and:

(1) who ranks in the top 10 percent of the department or unit of the same level may be awarded financial aid as 100% tuition, miscellaneous fee reimbursement.

(2) who ranks in the top 20 percent of the department or unit of the same level may be awarded financial aid as 50% tuition, miscellaneous fee reimbursement.

iii. Students in a master's program who have completed one semester of study, have taken at least six credits in each semester, have a conduct grade of 80 or higher, had an average academic grade of 80 or higher in the previous semester, and:

(1) who ranks in the top 25 percent of the department or unit of the same level may be awarded financial aid as 100% tuition, miscellaneous fee reimbursement, and may also be granted a living stipend.

(2) who ranks in the top 50 percent of the department or unit of the same level may be awarded financial aid as 50% tuition, miscellaneous fee reimbursement, and may also be granted a living stipend.

iv. Students in a PhD program who have completed one semester of study, have taken at least six credits in each semester, have a conduct grade of 80 or higher, and had an average academic grade of 80 or higher in the previous semester may be awarded 100% tuition and miscellaneous fee reimbursement, and may also be granted a living stipend.

v. All students in master's and PhD programs must be recommended by their advisor. Those who do not meet the six-credit requirement during the dissertation writing period may apply with a recommendation letter from their advisor and a dissertation writing plan.

vi. Those who do not meet the above criteria may apply on the recommendation of the department.

B. Duration: Financial aid is available for up to eight semesters for undergraduate students, up to four semesters for students in a master's program and up to eight semesters for students in a PhD program. The living stipend is granted from the month the recipient actually begins studying until the award period ends, or until the month of graduation, suspension, withdrawal or revocation of the scholarship.

C. Tuition and miscellaneous fee reimbursement covers tuition, miscellaneous fees and credit fees only; it does not cover the computer and network access fee, sports facility use and maintenance fee, accommodation fees, insurance or other fees collected on behalf of third parties.

D. Students receiving other scholarships or grants from R.O.C. government agencies may not also apply for this scholarship; however, if that amount is lower than this scholarship, they may apply for the difference.

E. Regardless how much financial aid, students must first pay all the tuition and miscellaneous fee to complete the registration.

F. Please refer to Yuan Ze University Regulations Governing Scholarship Awarding for Foreign Students for detailed and most updated information
