Article 5 (Termination of Allowance)

Party B shall cease to receive the living allowance and must repay any living allowance received from Party A under the following circumstances. However, if the student is deceased or unable to continue studies or employment due to serious illness or accidents, verified by a qualified teaching hospital as per the standards of the Ministry of Health and Welfare, they may be exempt from repayment. The following scenarios also apply:

1. Withdrawal from the program due to personal reasons, such as transferring schools, changing departments, or returning home after taking a leave of absence, and subsequently abandoning the continuation of the program despite counseling from the school.

2. Loss of eligibility to participate in the plan due to taking a leave of absence or being unable to complete studies or work.
3. Failure to commence employment with Party A within 3 months after graduation.

If Party B has not fulfilled the employment obligation period after graduation, they shall repay the living allowance proportionate to the number of months not employed; if less than a month, it will be counted as one month. However, if any of the conditions outlined in Article 11, Paragraphs 1 through 4, or Article 14, Paragraph 1 of the Labor Standards Act apply, Party B may be exempt from repayment of the living allowance received.

Article 6 (Repayment Rules)

If Party B is required to repay the living allowance to Party A as stated in the previous article, the repayment rules are as follows:

Article 7 (Labor Rights)

1. Party A must comply with labor laws when Party B fulfills employment obligations after graduation.
2. Employment conditions provided by Party A to Party B after graduation (including salary and benefits) must be equal to those of other full-time employees and must not be lower due to receiving living allowances.
3. The required service duration must comply with the "necessity" (Article 15-1, Paragraph 1) and "reasonableness" (Article 15-1, Paragraph 2) standards of the Labor Standards Act.

Article 8 (Joint Guarantor's Liability)

Before signing this agreement, Party B must secure a joint guarantor, who must be approved by Party A, and the agreement will be signed by both Party B and the joint guarantor. The joint guarantor is jointly liable for any repayment obligations arising from this agreement or subsequent obligations. If the joint guarantor seeks to terminate their guarantee before Party B has fulfilled all obligations under this agreement, Party B must promptly find a new guarantor, which requires Party A's approval and a new contract.

Article 9 (Delivery of Notices)

Unless otherwise stipulated in this agreement, any other notices, documents, or materials to be delivered to the parties shall be in writing, primarily in English (with Chinese as a secondary language), and shall be effective upon delivery to the other party. Unless a change of address is made with prior consent, the following addresses shall be used:

1. Address of Party A:
 2. Address of Party B:
- If either party fails to notify of address changes as stipulated, delivery to the original address shall be deemed effective.

Article 10 (Jurisdiction)

Both parties shall diligently fulfill this agreement in good faith. In case of civil litigation, the competent court shall be that of Party A's location. This provision also applies to the joint guarantor.

Article 11 (Applicability of Other Laws)

If there are any matters not addressed in this agreement, they shall be handled in accordance with relevant laws or resolved through meetings convened by the Ministry of Education.

Article 12 (Copies of the Agreement)

This agreement is made in three copies. It shall become effective upon signing by both parties, with one copy retained by Party A, one copy each for Party B and the guarantor, and one copy retained by the school for record-keeping.
